DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- ② 2. Claim 1⁶ is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the limitation “the alternative access point transmits at less than full power” is not confusion. The specification on page 6, figure 6 and figure 7 discloses making the channel selection at an access point according to the power level strength of the beacons, not according to “full power”. The term “full power” is not set at a particular level. 3 db can be the “full power” at AP 1, 10 db can be the “full power” at AP2... etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Crosbie (U.S Patent No. 2002/0085719).

Regarding claim 1, Crosbie discloses a method use by a wireless device in a wireless communications environment, paragraph 0034, the method comprising the steps of:

ascertaining, by the wireless device, whether the wireless device should attempt to associate with an AP 24-2 (alternative access point), paragraph 0039, the ascertaining based at least in part on a signal strength (level of attenuation of signal strength) of transmission from the alternative access point where the alternative access point transmits at less than full power, paragraph 0047; requesting association with the alternative access point if is ascertained that the wireless device should attempt to associate with the alternative access point, paragraph 0044.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Crosbie (U.S Patent No. 2002/0085719) in the view of Stewart (U.S Patent No. 5,633,888).

Regarding claim 2, Crosbie discloses the measurement of signal strength and attenuation, paragraph 0047. Crosbie does not disclose the step of automatically collecting information about other access points. Stewart discloses that the mobile device periodically (automatically) scans information related to signal strength of adjacent Aps (other Aps), col.8 line 60. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have the step of automatically collecting information about other access points included in the method of Crosbie so that information about neighbor Aps can be updated regularly.

Regarding claim 3, Crosbie discloses that the step of ascertaining ascertains that the wireless device should attempt to associate with another access point if the access point moves closer the range of AP 24-2 or in loading, paragraph 0044 (closer than the current access point with account in loading), paragraph 0041.

Regarding claim 5, Crosbie discloses that the step of requesting association requests association by sending a message to the access point, paragraph 0044.

Regarding claim 6, Crosbie discloses that the step of ascertaining ascertains that the wireless device should attempt to associate with the alternative access point based at least in part on signal strength (maximum potential signal strength) of the alternative access points, paragraph 0047.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
